All,

Thank you so much for joining us for our Walkshop today. It was great to hear about similar challenges and opportunities in your cities, and we hope it was informative and interesting. I'm attaching a few slides we weren't able to show this morning about the development boom in South Park, and our transit priorities.

Feel free to reach out to Ellen or me if you have questions about any of these projects, or future ones. Enjoy the rest of your time in LA!
